FOREWORD

Search carefully, and you will find a year
Of campus joy and sport imprisoned here.
Earlham! Can printed page reclaim
The cheers and green caps of a football game,
Pajama'd figures leaping round a flame?
A white corsage pinned to a dancing dress;
Bull session talk, of cheerful candidness;
An operetta, colorful and gay;
Some cemetery madness, then a play;
And classes marching onward, day by day.
Ah, in this book we all are here again,
Buildings are framed, the clubs you entered when
You were a frosh are here, and in the end
You will, between these pages, find a friend.

President of Earlham

EARLHAM COLLEGE
RICHMOND, INDIANA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

This is a testing time for our colleges. As a distinguished Earlham alumnus, holding one of the most important positions in the educational world has recently pointed out, the colleges are facing reduced income on their endowment funds and from their student fees. This means a survival of the fittest; but the battle is not necessarily to the strong nor the race to the fleet. The "fittest" is not the biggest nor the richest college, but the best.

Survivorship will be determined in the main by two elements: first, by the service rendered by the college to its students, and second, by the affection borne for the college by her students and alumni—affection which results not alone from intellectual benefits received, but from intangible though none the less real and none the less worthwhile memories, associations, and ideals. As Daniel Webster said of his alma mater, "It is a small college, but there are those who love it," and therefore Dartmouth lives and serves today. Earlham, happy in the affection of her students and alumni, confidently awaits tomorrow.

Dean Grant

A.B. Colgate University, 1895

A.M. University of Chicago, 1897

Ph.D., 1916

To the Student Body:

"At the conclusion of my services as Acting Dean the student body has given me two very favorable opinions.

"First, I deeply appreciate the fine cooperation which students and organizations alike have shown. I want to thank the entire student body for this attitude.

"Second, I am impressed with the friendly spirit which shows itself in such whole-hearted action as the occasional 'frugal meals' for charity, and the culmination of it all in a friendly international spirit with the contributions to the Tadakora fund."

E. D. GRANT.

Dean Comstock

New Haven Normal of Phy. Ed.
A.B. Earlham College, 1900

To the Students of Earlham College:

"I am glad to have this opportunity of expressing my pleasure in my association with you and of reaffirming my confidence in you.

"To the seniors who now go out from Earlham, bearing with them the traditions of the college, my sincere wish is that each one may have among his possessions a mind trained to think effectively in all circumstances, for in such a possession lie true happiness, success, and real service to humanity."

"Resolved that the present extent of modern advertising should be deplored." With these words the women's debate teams opened eight evenings of good-natured, forensic battling about a very pertinent topic. Our opponents were from DePauw, Capital University, Wittenburg, Ohio University, and Ohio Wesleyan. For the first time this year Earlham participated in the Ohio League of women debaters. Our five victories led us to a tie with Wittenburg for the league cup. As a grand finale for the season the members of the teams received checks from the Trueblood Testimonial Fund.

For years Earlham has had an active interest in debating and oratory. Inspired and guided by "Prof. Ed." generations of Earlham students have moulded a reputation for Earlham in the field of forensics. Six years ago this interest was rewarded by the establishment of a chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic fraternity. Membership is won by participation in at least three inter-collegiate debates or a State Oratorical contest, and upon the payment of dues. Professor Trueblood, Professor Morgan and Joseph Wagner of Hartford City are honorary members.

Oratorical Contests

Elmore Leppert, '36, speaking on "Democracy or Dictatorship" won the Old Line Oratorical Contest and the honor of representing Earlham in the State Meet. David Webb, '37, won second place. LeRoy Ferguson, '38, Floyd Wilson, '35, Morton Stratton, '37, and Leon Reynolds, '36, also competed for high honors and cash awards of $15 and $10.

The fall Extempore Contest was won by Walter King, '35, who spoke on "The Japanese and Naval Parity." Elmore Leppert, '36, received second place. Other contestants were Kathryn Frank, '37, David Webb, '37, and Orville Varnell, '35.

The Season's Plays

"TWELFTH NIGHT"

The Dramatic presentations of the past year were outstanding in the choice of plays and in the talent and ingenuity displayed in their production. Such playwrights as Shakespeare, Barrie, O'Neill and Sheridan contributed to the season's roster of plays.

The first Mask and Mantle presentation of the year was Barrie's "Dear Brutus," held in October during Homecoming. This highly imaginative play was enthusiastically received. The keynote to the play was in Shakespeare's lines in "Julius Caesar" "The fault, dear Brutus, lies not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings."

The cast included: Lois Gordner, Mary Janet Kienker, Mildred Pheanis, Rhea Brooks, Olivia Prosser, Walter King, Carl Hatfield, William Burbank, Harold Albertson, Orville Varnell, Maxine Roe.

The Dramatic Arts Class presented "The Lion and the Mouse," by Charles Klein, a classic of the early part of this century, for their November play. The story concerns a political intrigue in which Shirley Rossmore, played by Carrol Borgman, goes disguised to her lover's house in order to save her father from disgrace at the hands of Judge Ryder, played by Donald McCullough. Jefferson Ryder, the lover, was played by Herbert Hadley, and Judge Rossmore by John Penery.

The second presentation of the Dramatic Arts Class was given March 23rd and included two plays. The first of these was an unusual play by Alice Gerstenberg "Within the Hour," and the second a powerful drama by Eugene O'Neill. The story of "Within the Hour" centered around the death of a one time rich old man who died penniless. The development of the play showed the consequences his death would have upon the lives of his immediate family who were scattered all over the world and knew nothing of his loss of fortune. The students are to be commended for their success in handling a play written in quick modern tempo.

"Where the Cross is Made" was a one-act play typical of O'Neill's writing style and thought. O'Neill expressed the idea behind his play thus: "Any victory we may win or lose is never the one we dreamed of winning. The point is that life in itself is nothing. It is the dream that keeps us fighting, willing, living." The story was concerned with the last episode in the life of an old sea captain named Bartlett, played by Tom Jones, who sent a ship out to find a gold treasure which he had discovered some years before. The ship was wrecked but the Captain did not believe it and the eternal waiting for the return of the ship finally robbed him of his reason. The father's influence on his son, played by Ed Wildman, was responsible for the loss of his mind also. The stage sets for these two plays displayed ingenuity and good craftsmanship.

"DEAR BRUTUS"

The climax of the dramatic season was Mask and Mantle's second production of the year, Shakespeare's most famous comedy "Twelfth Night," which was presented on April 26th and 27th during Parents' Week-End. This play centers around the humorous affairs of the Duke, Olivia, and Viola. It is replete with gayety and hilarious situations arising from the disguise of Viola who parades as her twin brother, Sebastian.

The Society is to be commended for its splendid work in the presentation of this difficult comedy piece. It is the first time for many years that an attempt of this sort has been made and the enthusiastic reception accorded the play upon both performances is a tribute to the ability and talent of the organization, and also an encouragement to continue the policy of presenting the works of outstanding playwrights.

Morton Stratton appeared as Sir Toby, Maxine Roe as Viola, Olivia Prosser as Olivia, Orville Varnell as Feste, the clown, Elmore Leppert as Malvolio, Mary Lu Bentley as Maria and Sidney Hutton as Sir Andrew.

"The Rivals," a play by Sheridan, was presented by the Senior Class May 24th and June 15th.

1934 Season

Earlham's five-yard line where all four downs were needed to push the ball over. Offensively Hall and Peters performed in the best fashion and defensively Overman and Captain

Hill took the honors. Earlham made six first downs to Holbrook's seven; Earlham completed four forward passes out of seven for a total of 65 yards while Holbrook connected with three out of twelve for a total of 40 yards. Hall with eleven attempts carried the ball a total of 42 yards, making the highest average for the afternoon with 3.8 yards per try; Hancock was second with eight attempts, 28 yards made, and a 3.5 yards average; Peters was third with 15 attempts, 45 yards made, and a 3 yards average. One victory was in the bag.

In the second game with Hanover, Earlham took her worst defeat of the season, losing 27 to 0. Hay, Hanover's all-state secondary back, proved too hard

The 1934 football prospects were much improved last fall for two reasons. First, M. O. Ross was to be head coach again with the assistance of last year's stellar captain and quarterback, Tommy Moore; and second, 13 veteran men responded to the first call. These included Captain Hill, Overman, Albertson, Hunt, McDorman, Diggs, Johnson, Dickinson, Stevens, Fisher, Ruby, Steinbrink, Hall, Hadley, and Thompson, plus a number of likely freshmen candidates including Popovec, Hancock, and Peters.

Holbrook was defeated in the first game of the seven-game season, 13-6. Two successful drives during the first half enabled the Fightin' Quakers to push over both their markers, Mac Hall scoring both touchdowns and the extra point. Holbrook made their lone touchdown in the last quarter when an intercepted Quaker pass gave them the ball on to stop and scored three of Hanover's four touchdowns. Earlham's most valiant attempt to score came as a result of a twenty-yard run by Popovec which placed the ball on the Hanover eleven-yard line but here the Hill-topper line stiffened and the Maroon team was held for downs. Joe Popovec's punts were the feature of the game. Earlham completed two out of ten forward passes and Hanover made none out of seven tries. Overman and Ruby tied each other in the contest for the most tackles with nine apiece. Popovec carrying the ball three times made 23 yards or an average of 7.7 yards per try. Hancock was second with 5 yards made in two attempts and Peters third with 18 yards in eight attempts.

In the third game of the season Earlham, after battling on even terms for three quarters, fumbled two punts and Defiance converted them into 14 points, Earlham losing 14-0. For Earlham the feature of the game was the completion of the "sleeper" play at the beginning of the second half; however the receiver was tackled before he crossed the goal line. Popovec's kicking averaged 33.5 yards on seven punts. Earlham scored six first downs to Defiance's twelve. Mac Ruby took the tackling laurels with eleven tackles. Second place was a four-way tie with Hill, Steinbrink, Barrett, and Peters each getting three. Hall gained the most yards with 33 in nine runs for an average of 3.7 yards per run. Peters was second with a total of 18 yards in six runs for an average of 3 yards per run. Earlham's passing attack was much more effective than Defiance's as the Maroon team completed six passes out of thirteen attempts for 59 yards during the afternoon while Defiance was successful with only two out of ten for a total of 42 yards.

In the fourth game of the season the Fightin' Maroons, with two defeats and one victory already chalked up against them came back and evened the season's schedule at two-up defeating Central Normal 14 to 6.
The ball was in the air all the time with single, double, and triple laterals as well as forward passes. Earlham making six out of eleven attempts for a total distance of 77 yards and Danville being successful with only four out of eighteen for a distance of 85 yards. Mac Hall scored both touchdowns.

The first Earlham score came about as a result of two completed passes
and three line plunges.
The passes were Hall to Popovec and Hall to Johnson which put the ball on the eight yard strip. After Popovec

Hall

had tried the line twice for 4 yards, Hall took the pig-skin over. Tackles for Earlham were made by Overman 10, Ruby 8, Johnson 6, Hall 6, Hunt 5, Hill 5, Dickinson 4, Peters 3, Hancock 3, and Barrett 2. Popovec averaged 5.7 yards every time he took the ball, making a total of 34 yards in six runs, Hall was second with a 4.4 yards average totaling 44 yards in ten attempts, Barrett was third averaging 4 yards at a try.

In the fifth game, the Homecoming contest, the Maroons lost a disappointing tussle to Bluffton, 12-0. After outplaying the strong Bluffton Beavers during the first half the Quakers weakened and a freak pass and a blocked punt gave the visitors victory. Most of the Quaker threats to score came during the first half and were unsuccessful because of fumbles. Popovec's punting again was a feature of the game with one punt making 77 yards. No less than 26 punts were exchanged between the two teams during the course of the 60 minutes. Hill, Overman and Hall were outstanding for Earlham.

In the sixth game the Quakers again evened the score in regard to games won and games lost at three-up when they defeated Rose Poly 6-0. Earlham scored her points in the third quarter when Mac Hall ran 44 yards through the drizzling rain to score the only touchdown of the game. Earlham played mostly a defensive game and had to repulse several attacks made by the Engineers. The Rose Poly team made a number of advances deep into Quaker territory, and at one time the ball was inside the two-yard mark, but the Maroon line held. The Quakers again threatened to score during the closing minutes of play as they advanced down the field by a series of passes but the advance was halted short of the goal line by the gun.

In the seventh and last game Earlham was defeated by DePauw, the Tigers scoring a touchdown in every period, but the Quaker team played its best football of the season. The Maroon team matched DePauw's running attack with their defense, dropping a DePauw player many times right in his tracks. The type of playing done by the Earlham squad was spectacular in that they resorted to unusual passing plays, and unorthodox spread formations. Eleven of the twenty-seven Maroon passes were completed while the Tigers were able to connect with only four out of nineteen attempts. Earlham gained 108 yards from passes to DePauw's thirty, making six first downs to DePauw's four. Thompson's passes were clicking. Peters gained consistently through the Tiger line and got more tackles than any man on the field. Overman and Hall, who scored every Maroon touchdown made during the year, played good ball. Those playing their last games were Captain Sam Hill, Mac Hall, Bob Dickinson, Red Steinbrink, Mac Ruby, Francis Thompson, John Stevens, and Homer McDorman, who was out most of the time from injuries.

Hadley

Hancock

1934-35 Season

were often more than a match for some of the best squads in the middle west. Blair leaves a wealth of excellent ball players who are available for next season. His track teams for the past six years have won 15 of 21 dual meets, the 1933 track team being undefeated in all their dual contests. The Earlham cross-country team last fall finished the season with four victories in five meets. That "Blair leaves a job well done," is not an opinion but a fact.

The 1934-35 edition of the Maraudin' Maroons, while losing seven games and winning six, measured up fully in caliber to the teams of the two preceding years in the minds of many fans. The schedule was the hardest of any faced by an Earlham basketball squad in years with Butler, Ball State, DePauw, Western State Teachers, Dayton University, and Wabash all offering stiff opposition. The team for next year

The entire student body and faculty regret that this is Coach Gullion's, "Blair" as he is more commonly known, last year at Earlham. Since coming here as athletic director, Coach Gullion has won his way into the hearts of students and faculty alike with his splendid character and excellent athletic leadership. Athletic Director Gullion leaves after eight years of service to assume his new duties as basketball, track, and cross country coach at the University of Tennessee. He leaves with the best wishes of every student for his continued success.

During the past four years on the hardwood the Gullionmen have won 43 victories against 14 defeats. The Maraudin' Maroons were undefeated in the 1932-33 campaign. At one time the College boasted of a winning streak of 24 consecutive games. For eight years he has consistently developed teams with players from small neighboring high schools that the fieldhouse the Quakers rewarded their fans with a win over Dayton 42-14, Wilmington 38-20, and the sensational one-point win over Wabash, 32-31, which was easily the outstanding game of the year with Peters making the winning field goal to place Earlham in the lead by one point for the first time during the entire game. There was only seven more seconds to play when the winning basket swished through the net.

Then the squad trekked to Dayton and pulled away in the final minutes to win, 40-35. Western State next visited Trueblood Field and left with a 26-34 decision, but the next week the DePauw setback of earlier in the season was avenged, 34-31.

The last two games were away from home and resulted in losses to Wabash and Ball State by 31-36 and 23-34 scores, respectively.

will have a hard time to fill the berths left vacant through graduation of Russ Rothermel, a "dead eye" for goals; Mac Ruby, a stellar guard; Homer McDorman, a steady center; and Mac Hall, the most aggressive guard on the team. However in Harold Hunt and Pete Jordan along with Peters, our next year's team will have three good, clever, aggressive, Gullion-trained men to carry on with plenty of good sophomores to fill the gaps.

Wins were gained at the expense of Wilmington, Huntington, Wabash, DePauw and two from the Dayton Fliers. Losses were to Butler, Ball State two, DePauw, Western State two, and Wabash.

The season started out tragically with losses to Butler 44-29, Ball State 31-20, DePauw 28-20, and Western State, 33-23, four in a row. However on the team's vacation trip the string of losses was broken with a win over Huntington.

1935 Season

Head Coach Gullion

After boasting of an undefeated track team in 1933 with victories over Indiana Central, N. A. G. U., DePauw, and Ball State, scoring $2\frac{3}{4}$ points to our opponents' $149\frac{1}{2}$; after having a track team in 1934 boasting of only one defeat at the hands of DePauw's Tigers, with wins over Danville Normal, Indiana State, Butler, and Ball State; and after graduating such stars as Tommy Moore, dashes; Orval Snyder, distance; Bill Battey, dashes; Harold Bower, broad jump; Hildebrand, middle distance; Kausel, weights, and Al Cope, discus, "Old man Average" finally caught up with our track team this year and we dropped three out of five meets. Our losses were to DePauw, Butler, and Ball State. Our wins were at the expense of Indiana State and Taylor University, the latter contest marking the first encounter between Earlham and Taylor

University in the history of the two colleges. DePauw was represented by one of the strongest teams which they have developed in recent years, which almost succeeded in defeating Purdue University in a dual meet.

The outstanding feat of the 1935 season was the record-breaking heave of Mac Ruby in the javelin throw when he tossed the "spear" away to a new distance of 176 feet and 5 inches to break the toss of "Country" Huntsman, former Earlham decathlon star, of 175 feet and 9 inches. Howard Taylor proved his all-round ability by annexing points in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, 220 yard low hurdles and broad jump. Tom Jones, freshman distance man, "bid fair" to develop into a good two-miler. Earlham has maintained her position as possessing one of the stronger track teams among Indiana's Secondary Colleges through the efforts of Coach Gullion. Coach Gullion's thinly clad have always been consistent performers. Earlham's track teams always are well balanced—a tribute to their Coach. Prospects of next year are for a season as good as or better than this year.

Capturing only three firsts out of fourteen events Earlham went down to an unexpected defeat at the hands of Ball State. The outstanding event was Ruby's record-breaking heave of the javelin to 176 feet and 5 inches. The summary:

Mile run—Clevenger (BS) first; Moorehead (BS) second; Jones (E) third. Time—4:33.8.

Shot put—Wilson (BS) first; Barr (BS) second; Thompson (E) third. Distance—43 ft. 4 in.

440 yard dash—Darst (BS) first; Pierson (BS) second; Ridpath (E) third. Time—53.1 sec.

100 yard dash—Taylor (E) first; Smith (BS) second; Hampton (BS) third. Time—10.2 sec.

120 yard high hurdles—Stout (BS) first; Moore (E) second; Taylor (E) third. Time—16.1 sec.

880 yard run—Ridpath (E) first; Harvey (E) second; Eastman (BS) third. Time—2:07 min.

220 yard dash—Darst (BS) first; Taylor (E) second; Smith (BS) third. Time—23.4 sec.

Discus—Wilson (BS) first; Thompson (E) second; Barr (BS) third. Distance—119 ft. 8 in.

Pole vault—Ulmer (BS) first; Stevens (E) second; Holmes (BS) third. Height—11 ft. 6 in.

Two mile Run—Armstrong (BS) first; Moorehead (BS) second; Jones (E) third. Time—10:15.4 min.

Javelin—Ruby (E) first; Lewellen (BS) second; Thompson (E) third. Distance—176 ft. 5 in. (New record.)

High jump—Myers (BS) first; Taggart (BS), Hadley (E), and Barr (BS) tied for second and third. Height—5 ft. 10 in.

220 yard low hurdles—Stout (BS) first; Moore (E) second; Mordica (BS) third. Time—25.5 sec.

Broad jump—Taylor (E) and Fortenbacker (BS) tied for first and second; Hole (BS) third. Distance—20 ft. 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ in.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

May 18, 1935.

"As this school year, which terminates my official connection with Earlham, comes to a close, I have a feeling of regret in parting with the friends that I have made during my eight years here. However, the opportunities of my new position and the possibilities of the future are so attractive that I feel that I must make the change.

"My tenure at Earlham has been a happy one. I am grateful for the whole-hearted support of President Dennis and the faculty toward the entire program; the student body and the community have shown a splendid interest in our activities; and one cannot measure the value of the association with Professor Ed and his kindly philosophy toward life. My relationships with Coach Ross and the other members of the staff have been most pleasant.

"I am deeply appreciative to all of you for your many kindnesses and extend to Earlham and to Earlham men and women my best wishes for the years to come."

BLAIR GULLION.

Coach Van Dyke

To Coach Van Dyke justly goes all the credit for the revival of baseball at Earlham. In only four years, Coach Van Dyke has built a strong nine. This year he has received partial recognition for his work with the naming and dedication of the new Van Dyke Baseball Field. With interest and student support increasingly being shown every year, with the defeat of the fast Dayton nine, Earlham has definitely become a real contender in intercollegiate baseball competition.

Undefeated, scoring three shutouts, tied but once, and having the best record in years are real accomplishments. Earlham's Tennis Team for 1935 has done all this and justly may feel proud of their record. This record has been made despite the fact that four of the six players on the squad were new men this year. Earlham possessed with some of the best tennis courts in the State now has matched this fact by developing a team that ranks among the foremost in the State.

With four veteran cross-country runners in Evans, Parker, Ridpath, and Harmer, and with the addition of two unusually good freshmen in Jones and Wheeler, Earlham enjoyed her best cross-country season since the inception of this form of inter-collegiate competition. The season closed with four victories against a lone defeat to the Miami Redskins. Two victories over DePauw and one each from Ball State and Bluffton account for the wins.

Intramurals

Manager Hammond

Through the efforts of Blair Gullion the intramural sports program has succeeded in offering an opportunity for all students to participate in their favorite activity. Manager Walter Hammond has done very creditable work in supervising the sports, and in arranging the drawings. As long as the students play their matches on the scheduled time, and whole-heartedly support their teams, the success of the tourneys should be assured.

Last year the five who scored the highest number of points were awarded intramural sweaters, and the five runners-up received medals for their achievement. Maris, Hunt, Townsend, Hedrick and Lawall were the leading five, while Wilson, Brunner, Reynolds, Hammond and Snyder were their nearest rivals. At present the standing is as follows: Maris 955, Lawall 940, D. Hadley 925, Hedrick 910, Hammond 870, Reynolds 760, Hunt 608, Brazier 583, Clark 553, Ridpath 520, Johnson 520.

Maris
Golf Champ

The first round saw seventy-five entries in the horseshoe singles striving to stay in the running. Seventy-one players were lined up against each other in the tennis singles, while fifty-two golfers began in the fall competition. In the doubles, there were twenty-eight pairs starting in horseshoes, and twenty-nine pairs in tennis.

The results of the individual tourneys were as follows: Tennis singles—Dick Lutz defeated Wm. Burbanck in four sets (6-3, 6-1, 3-6, 8-6). Tennis doubles—R. Davis and Wm. Burbanck defeated R. Lutz and Bob Moore in a close match, (8-6, 7-9, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2). Horseshoe singles—Wilbur Lawall defeated Harold Hunt (36-50, 50-29, 50-34, 37-50, 50-43). Golf—Don Maris defeated H. Hadley, four up and two to go.

In the fall intramural baseball league the Senators, managed by Lou Schneidewind, won the championship, winning a 3 to 0 shutout over the Dodgers in the deciding fray. This game, which was featured by McNutt's stealing third with the bases loaded, gave the winners a record of three games won and none lost. The Dodgers, under the leadership of Ed Balfe, were second, having won two games and lost one. Digg's Giants won one game and lost two, while the Yankees, led by Land, lost all three of their contests.

“B” Champs

The intramural basketball league played on Wednesday nights in the Fieldhouse always marks the height of interest in the winter contests. Perhaps the most decided improvement in the winter intramural program this year was a division by Manager Hammond of the players into an “A” and “B” league. This resulted in getting players of more nearly the same ability on the same team. This division of the league into two parts intensified competition and interest. Sam Lindley's team took the championship of the “B” league winning nine games and losing only two.

Diggs-Clark
Horseshoe Doubles

Lindley's team was followed by Tom Daggy's machine which won eight and lost four. Next in order followed King's, Brown's and Leifer's squads. In the "B" league Clair Maple topped the individual scorers with 96 points followed by Dick Kleinknecht who was a close second with 91. In the "A" league John Steven's squad came through to annex the honors with a record of nine games won, two games lost, and one game tied. Leon Reynold's "basketeers" were the "runner-uppers" in this league.

"A" Champs

The basketball league with 100 men had the largest number of participants of any of the intramural contests. Horseshoe singles ranked second. In the winter tourneys, in table tennis Starr defeated D. Hadley from a field of 60; in the pingpong doubles Maris-Hedrick won from the Starr-Webb combination. Hunt won the free throw contest from Brazier and Jordan was "dead eye Dick" in the 21-tourney winning over Hedrick. In handball D. Hadley defeated Maris and then Hadley and Maris combined to take Land and Lawall.

Ridpath won the Ionian Cross Country run followed closely by Jones and Parker. Five teams entered the soft ball league with competition so very keen that a tie for first place developed between Lawall and Ruby's teams. Lawall's nine won the playoff and copped the championship. For the fall and winter tourneys alone there was a total number of 724 entries. Due to the adverse weather condition outdoors this spring fewer entries have been made and it has been very difficult to keep the contests running on schedule, consequently it is impossible to announce the spring winners.

The Junior men won the class basketball championship, defeating the Sophomores 46 to 26, Jordan scoring 19 points for the winners. In getting to the finals the Juniors won from the Seniors 40 to 31 and the Sophomores took the Freshmen 40 to 29. Under a system inaugurated in 1933, the intramural manager selects a student assistant who is approved by Director Gullion and who automatically becomes manager the following year. Tom Ridpath has been the assistant manager and so next year will automatically be head manager. May the program always be well supported.

Women's Athletics

Coaches

Miss Comstock

Miss Clara Comstock, though fulfilling all the duties of an alert and understanding dean of women, yet gives a great deal of time to W.A.A. as director of Women's Physical Education. She has a very strong leaning towards Hockey, and always encourages an exhibition game with a good outside team, each fall. Nevertheless, she has an overflow of enthusiasm left to spend on all the other sports. Miss Comstock is to be congratulated on her success in placing girls in the sports best suited to their health and personal preferences. It was largely through her efforts that the Lodge was erected. She always succeeds in getting a prominent hockey team to play on Comstock Field each year.

Miss Comstock has two very able assistants to help carry through her heavy athletic program. Miss Martha Ann Gennett instructs in Fencing, Archery and Folk Dancing. Mrs. Francis Robinson very ably took the place of Mrs. Norman Johanning while on leave of absence the first semester of this year. Mrs. Robinson was our Hockey coach. Mrs. Johanning returned to direct the various Spring sports—Baseball, Tennis, Swimming and Track. Miss Gennett, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Johanning are all Earlham graduates, trained in W. A. A. athletics, so it is evident that we have competent instructors:

W. A. A. is an organization in which all Earlham women automatically have membership. This club aims to promote participation in healthful recreation for girls.

The culmination of the W. A. A. year for all girls is the Spring banquet at which time the officers for the next year are received. Honors for W. A. A. points are awarded and finally, the E. C. girl, elected by the Junior W. A. A. executive members from the standpoint of scholarship, Earlham spirit and all-round participation in outside activities, is announced.

The first award given by W. A. A. is class numerals for which a girl must have earned 500 points in any of the various sports offered, providing health rules have been observed. The E insignia is the next highest award. It requires 1,000 points earned by participation in at least two sports.

EE Club

Double E club is comprised of those few girls who have consistently followed the athletic program. A total of 2,000 points is required through a proficiency in three sports and membership on one varsity. Points are earned, not only by playing directly in sports, but also through keeping health rules and by hiking on designated routes.

EC Club

The E. C. club membership this year is the largest it has ever been. It is a distinct honor to earn the privilege of wearing the E. C. white flannel jacket piped with maroon, as it is the highest award given by W. A. A. A total of 3,000 points and membership on two varsities, is necessary for membership.

All-Earham Team

Material for an All-Earham Hockey squad was lined up a week before the Earham-North Shore exhibition game, November 17, 1934, after which several practice games were played with a team of Bundy-ites and with the Richmond Earham alumni team.

From a squad of sixteen, eleven girls were chosen to defend Earham. They distinguished themselves in speed, team play and sportsmanship. Washington and Shortridge high school hockey groups, from Indianapolis, played a preliminary contest on Comstock Field, the morning of the big game, and many colleges sent representatives to the exhibition contest.

North Shore Team

The North Shore Hockey team from Chicago were the guests of Earlham November 17 and 18. Last year Earlham played the South Shore team and won 7-3. This year the final score was 5-5. Half score, 1-3 North Shore, the one goal was made by Decou, Earlham, Washburn, Hedburg and Street made the three for North Shore. During the second half, Reagan shot four goals for Earlham.

The Hockey Varsity was chosen by the four class captains and the Hockey Manager, in conference with Miss Comstock and Mrs. Robinson. The Varsity usually comprises a full team, but this year only eight players stood out above all others in ability, sportsmanship and interest in the sport.

Due to the marvelous fall weather, hockey enthusiasts were quite fortunate in missing but one or two days of practice. Competition was keen in the class tournaments but '36 came through as champions for the second successive year, having lost only one game since they ventured forth as Freshmen in the fall of '32. Hannah Decou, '37, is next year's manager.

This year's class tournament was very exciting. The Juniors had won the basketball championship for two years and promised to do so again. The Seniors surprised every one by putting a cog in the Junior wheel of victory and making the championship a 50-50 proposition between the Sophomores and Juniors. Archery is an exceedingly graceful sport and is becoming even more popular each succeeding year. Each Spring there is an inter-class Archery tournament as in the other sports. Those in college now who were on the teams for the year '33-'34 are: Seniors—Marguerite Gusweiler and Rhea Brooks; Juniors—Viola Waskow, Helen Meschter and Lois Gordner; Sophomores—Margaret Balderson and Mae Beth Schockley. The winner of the tournament was Viola Waskow.

A perfect dive, a streak through the Y. M. pool, live-saving and the Spring meet—that's swimming at Earlham. In the 1934 meet, the class team—'36, eeked out a 32-31 victory over the Freshmen. Individual winners were: Sensenig, 10 points; Creek, 8 points; and Waskow, 6 points. Virginia Rodefelf broke the pool record for the crawl. These girls are all of the class of '36.

Last Spring's Baseball meet was won by the class of '34. The champions challenged the faculty men to a game. The score was in favor of the Faculty. The final athletic fun-fest of the year was a Baseball-Track picnic in the faculty bowl. There the Baseball Varsity was announced.

Enthusiasm for tennis ran high last May, '34, with many girls from all classes competing for individual or class honors. Sally Webster won the singles tournament for the second consecutive time, and the Sophomore class won the honors in the doubles tournament. Last year W. A. A. sponsored a mixed doubles tennis tourney.

Unusually fine weather made riding one of the most enjoyable sports offered this year. All women participating made great improvements and were able to pass their riding tests in the Spring. Points received for the tests were as follows: elementary test, one hundred points, intermediate test, two hundred points; and advanced test, three hundred points. The purchase of a new horse helped to make the season very successful.

There are two minor sports which fill in the gaps when it's too rainy or too hot for Baseball. These are Indoor and Outdoor Track. The Indoor Meet this year was in the form of a pleasure cruise on Goddard Auditorium Stage, where the "passengers" demonstrated Deck Tennis, Fencing, Clogging and Dancing on board ship. There were Ping-pong, Deck Tennis and Shuffleboard tournaments in addition to the exhibition. The Outdoor Track Meet of '33-'34 was won by the class of '34. This class also holds the relay record at 14.1 seconds. Alta Mary Reagan, '36, is champion discus thrower—76 feet 9 inches, and Sally Webster, '35, broke the baseball throwing record at 193.6 feet.

The Lodge

Located on the eastern boundary of Comstock field, the Lodge faces the center of Earlham co-eds' athletic activities. With its bright furnishings and cheery open fire-place, the Lodge attracts students and faculty for various "get-togethers." Concealed in convenient cupboards, are hockey sticks, baseball bats, bows and arrows, and all other implements of warfare used on Comstock field. W. A. A. is deservedly proud of the Lodge as it represents several years' efforts in working and planning on the part of the organization and plays a very important part in its activities.

The wittiest, prettiest girl of the day
Is chosen each year for the Queen of the May,
To reign a few hours
With ribbons and flowers,
And attendants, charming and gay.
And brave Robin Hood always leads the parade,
And fair maidens dance in a ring,
So with music and singing
Rejoice in the bringing
Of Merry May in, and bright spring!

A new precedent was established for future Earlham May Days this year with the election of Robin Hood. Like the May Queen, Robin Hood must be a senior. This year his attendants were Homer McDorman and Walter King.

Alice in Earlhamland

SEPTEMBER:

"It is certainly difficult to get into this place," remarked Alice, while standing in a line of filthy people outside the B. O. during registration, "how do you get out of it?" "There are Two Ways," said Somebody, sniffing, "you can graduate or you can go to gaol." Alice looked around reflectively, she was a little puzzled, for though she knew by the fuss that had been made over her that she was a Very Important Person, still the sudden influx of green mittens and caps, and Superior Sophomores was disconcerting. "Everything starts soon now," remarked a White Rabbit with a legal voice, hurrying into an office marked "Prexy,"—"Football, book reviews, Chapels; Elbert Russell will speak, and then there will be Home-coming—" "Who comes?" inquired Alice. "The lobsters," said the Rabbit, "and a few snails. We clean up the campus for the year, and have a bonfire so that the men in nighties won't catch cold; then we'll dedicate the new drive, and have a football game." "My stars!" said Alice. "The fault, dear Brutus, lies not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings," said the Rabbit severely, and shut the door.

NOVEMBER:

In November Alice was having a hard time adjusting herself to the change from the cemetery to Carpenter Hall necessitated by the colder weather, and without make-up she was feeling less sophisticated. Early in the month the Geology Bus went to Turkey Run with a car escort; it was very muddy. She "saw stars" in the conservatory, and met Mr. Iwahashi, who could not see stars. Ralph Johnson suddenly became next year's football captain. And then Thanksgiving Vacation arrived. "What is the Thanksgiving for?" Alice inquired of the Red Queen anxiously. "For the vacation, of course," snapped the Queen, as she wrote "C. C." on Alice's card.

DECEMBER:

Everybody was singing "The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la," excepting a sad philosophical catapillar, who was singing: "Has anybody here seen Kelly, Kelly of the Hawaiian Isles?" Everybody had, but was feeling badly because they wouldn't be doing so next year. Tadakora received the third Degree in Chapel. "Really," remarked Alice, "What's the matter with the Red Queen?" "One of her favorite horses is bucking," said the catapillar, "and it was always such a patient nag." "Dear, dear," said Alice, "What is its name?" "Earlham Hall Council," explained the catapillar, "but that is neither here nor there," and with that he sang a little song as follows:

In January Basketball
Will hold the Earlham men in thrall,
Feathers will fly in Earlham Hall
When Open House becomes a brawl!

Just skip exams and registration,
That is if you escape cremation,
And by the way, did you know that the Red Queen wants to play a harp?

MARCH:

Alice was very confused because she had had so much vocational guidance from Miss Jackson, and because the Earlham Post rather suddenly changed its masthead, very shortly after the White Rabbit came back from the East, and showed the Editor a bottle labelled "Drink Me" on one side and "Medicine" on the other. Then Mr. Gullion decided to go to Tennessee, and there was much weeping and wailing, and gnashing of teeth by the basketball fans, the Gullion fans, and even the electric fans in Goddard. And suddenly it was Vacation, and equally suddenly

APRIL:

"Dear me," remarked Alice, "this month is passing quickly . . . gorgeous, gorgeous blue and silver ball . . . Play Day, and very short shorts on Heart . . . Scientists in Cincinnati holding a blood orgy at the stock yard . . . plain 'Field' becomes 'Van Dyke Field' . . . Parents arrive . . . Shakespeare . . . Parents leave . . . and"

MAY:

And the season changes abruptly from Carp to Cemetery again. Alice found herself in chapel together with a great crowd of people and a copy of "The Star Spangled Banner." "This is an unusual chapel," she said, conscientiously awakening her neighbor, "What is going on?" "Up there with the White Rabbit?" said the neighbor, "Oh, they are the Walrus and the Carpenter. They are giving a medal to the oysters, who are still in bed." "I see," said Alice, "but I do wish they'd all speak English." "That is too much to expect," said the neighbor, "and anyway you couldn't be expected to understand." But Alice was too busy thinking to be insulted. "I must drag out a new formal and the current passion," she thought, "and take them both to the Phoenix dance. Hurray for the May Break-fast!"

JUNE 17:

Alice was sitting in the balcony, waiting for procedures to begin, and at last the Seniors, having taken exams, attended Baccalaureate, been received by the Powers that Be, entertained by the White Rabbit, given "The Rivals," commenced. "There is something very final about it," remarked Alice to the caterpillar, by whom she happened to be sitting. "But commencing," said the caterpillar, "is very similar to beginning, which is like starting, which is practically the same as setting out. And did you ever set anything out? . . . The cat, for instance?" . . . But Alice did not reply, for she had already called a Grim's Cab, and was planning how she would startle the Freshmen in the fall, as a sophisticated Sophomore.

Ross of the Fightin' Quakers
By the nine gods he swore (affirmed)
That the great name of Earlham
Should suffer wrong no more.
By the nine gods he swore it,
And named a glorious day
And sent a bloody challenge forth
East, West, South, and North,
To meet him in the fray.

And now hath every college
Sent up her tale of men:
Eleven husky beef-eaters,
And stout subs numbering ten.
Now is the brass band playing;
Now does the sun shine bright;
Now are the bleachers packed with those
Who come to see the fight.

A cheer for good old Earlham!
A cheer for Captain Hill!
A cheer for the Fightin' Quakers,
Whose sturdy strength and skill
Will get the ball and keep it,
And pass it down the line,
And surely score a touchdown,
With aspects leonine.

But in the first half, grimly,
The opposing teams now lock,
The enemy fights fiercely—
The Earlham team's like rock.
Nay, not an inch will give they
Who not an inch can gain;
The heaving mass makes not a pass
Though stalwart bodies strain.

Crack goes the pistol loudly:
The first half now is done,
And though the men fought bravely
Still not a point is won.

The coach's brow is gloomy
And the coach's voice is low
Darkly he looks upon the team
And darkly at the foe.

"Now by the elms and maples
That here at Earlham shine,
Can not just one strong Earlham son
Break through their iron line?"
Then spake courageous Samuel,
Their captain bold was he,
Whom all the men did hold in awe,—
Whom girls loved secretly.

"To every man upon this earth
There cometh soon or late
A smashed skull and a broken back,
If such must be his fate:
And can a skull crack better
Than when faced with fearful odds.
For the ashes of Old Earlham
(Camel's Club)
And the temples of ye gods?"

Then each man steeled to action
They leap into the brawl.
But see! One man now breaks away—
BRAVE SAMUEL HAS THE BALL
Faster he runs and faster,
(He's really going to town)
The ten yard line . . . The five yard line . . .
He's made the first touchdown!

The bleachers rock with cheering
The crowd shouts out his name
The pistol fires, the foe retires,
Earlham has won the game!
(So now while down at dinner
The Earlham students strive
To tell how Earlham won the game
In the days of '35).

COLLEGE PSALTER

Second-hand is my car, but I will not walk!

It conducteth me through the green lights, and leadeth me to the flood waters.

It converteth my clothes to grease, and leadeth me in the direction of smooth roads, for its tires' sake.

Yea, though I drive in the shadow of a truck I fear no evil, for it is with me; its back-fire and gas fumes comfort me.

It breaketh down in the presence of my enemies; It annointeth my head with oil, and its tank runneth over.

Surely disaster and police shall follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell on my back in the garage forever.

EXAMS

I will lift up my eyes unto the board, from whence cometh no help.

My help cometh from my neighbor, who raiseth heaven and earth, and will not suffer his book to be seen. He that watcheth us will not sleep.

Behold, he that conducteth the exam will neither slumber nor leave.

Blank is thy paper, blank is what some call thy mind. The sun shall not shine on thee by day, nor the moon by night, for now must thou stay in to study.

The professor shall submit thee to all evil: he shall grade thy paper.

The class shall watch thy passing out, and thou shalt flunk, from this time forth and even for ever more.

One time a young student named Leif(er)
 Interrupted a course under Rife(r),
 But the Doctor, Quite sad,
 Took a look at the lad
 Which caused him to take his own life(r).

This beautiful place used to be Far different from what you now see;
 Prof. Charles came along
 And saw what was wrong,
 And planted some flowers, with much glee.

"An auto's all right in its way,
 If the students go driving by day;
 But alas, after dark
 They are tempted to park,"
 A Power was once heard to say.

The chapel one day was a bore,
 And Edward Balfe started to snore;
 When the chandelier shook
 Dean Ross, with a look,
 Remarked "keep it down to a roar."

To shoot ducks and such with a gun
 By many is liked, but as fun
 This cannot approach
 That of hunting the roach,—
 The dorms' public foe No. 1.

Red ants sometimes make the mistake
 Of growing too fond of our cake;
 Though viewed with disfavor,
 They improve the flavor,
 So conquer your fears and partake!

In Bundy there was such profanity,
 That some doubted their christianity,
 But some boys, not caring
 To hear so much swearing,
 Cured the rest—a good deed for humanity.

Nelson Wheeler one day found a word
 Whose meaning he never had heard,
 So Prexy said "mind it,
 In Webster you'll find it,"
 But Nelson thought that was absurd.

Hurst Shoemaker once caught a fish,
 Which answered his heart's dearest wish,
 But Miss Marshall went by,
 With a gleam in her eye,
 And it turned up for lunch on a dish.

Now Hurst with his hair upon end,
 Went tearing around to a friend,
 Who merely said: "Look,
 You've an excellent cook!
 It is better this way in the end."
